Saturday, the 20th inst., is the day for the election of School Trustees throughout the county.

Tax-paying is steadily progressing. The office of our worthy Sheriff presents a busy scene during the day, and the lamps are kept burning to a late hour.

Go to Wilson's Hall to-night. You will be contributing to a good object, and at the same time get the worth of your money.

The recent heavy and long continued rains have got the river, like every thing else, on a "boom." On Sunday it was rising an inch an hour and is still on the swell.

Futures in cotton suggest futures in everything. The latest exhibition of the spread of this mania is in wood. If it clouds up the wood-yonder goes up a half dollar because "it looks like it's going to rain and the roads will be bad after a while."

The premonitory symptoms of Christmas have made their appearance. The small boy is heard getting his voice in tune, and an occasional fire-cracker, like the rumbling of the thunder which precedes the storm, at intervals breaks upon the ear. Go it, boys; it comes but once a year.

Other towns are following Brookhaven's example and organizing literary-social clubs. Why can't Yazoo City do likewise? We do not believe her young people are entirely dead to all amusement, but evidently are in a kind of a stupor.

We have been requested to publish the following: A party of twelve, composed of old men, old women, young men and young ladies stopped at a hotel. Their bill was twelve dollars. The old men paid $4.00 each; the old women $2.00, each; the young men fifty cents, each; the young ladies, 25 cents each. How many old men, how many old ladies, how many young men, how many young ladies were there, and how much did each set pay.

A petition for the pardon of Logan Barton, convicted of manslaughter at the recent term of the Circuit Court here, was being circulated for signatures yesterday. It is alleged therein, that the conviction of Barton was procured by false swearing and other improper means. The petition also sets forth the previous good character of Barton, and prays that Executive clemency be interposed in his behalf. To this part of the petition it gives us pleasure to subscribe and bear testimony. We have known Logan Barton many years and always as an industrious reliable and peaceable man.

Main street presents a scene which beggars description. The display of goods, not only in the Holiday but in every other line, is splendid. Our merchants have not only bought largely in anticipation of "flush times," but they have exhibited more than their usual taste in the selection and arrangement of their stocks. They deserve a remunerative business, for they have certainly labored hard to induce it.

As evidence of what steady attention to business and judicious investment of capital can accomplish, we will call attention to the very remarkable case of Mr. Joseph Phipps of this city. Only a few short weeks ago the subject of this mention commenced business in a little shanty 4 by 6 feet in dimension, with a stock consisting of 5 apples, 1 quart of peanuts and 3 ginger cakes. So satisfactory has been the result of his operations in commerce that he has been compelled to erect an addition to his store to meet the demands of his rapidly extending business. This addition is now approaching completion, and consists of an elegant saloon, 4 by 3 feet. He has added considerably to his stock, and his sales are enormous. The writer of these lines himself purchased of Mr. Phipps 1 dozen eggs, all at once. Terms private.

We dropped in at Capt. Tyler's a few evenings since, and found many elegant and beautiful things to excite our admiration—and we may as well confess it, or desire. His show cases are resplendent with the flash and gleam of precious stones and jewels. Many handsome things, suitable for presents, presents that will last, and long recall the image of the giver, present themselves on every side. His stock and its artistic arrangement bear testimony to the good taste and judicious selection of the proprietor of that elegant establishment. Call and inspect things for yourselves.

While we are aware that Commodore Birmingham is far ahead of all other commanders of land packets, we cannot turn a deaf ear to the demand for a railway connecting this city with the Central Road. We mean no disparagement to him or the management of his excellent line when we say that the necessity for such an improvement is daily becoming more imperative. We do not propose at present to enumerate the advantages to be derived from such an enterprise, but refer to it merely to introduce a subject that will loom up in the near future, and we may as well begin to talk about it now.

Circuit Court adjourned on Saturday morning last, after a session of three weeks. The following is a list of representatives to the penitentiary, elected at the term just closed. They took their departure for the Capital by special train, on Tuesday morning; except Logan Barton, who appealed, and was admitted to bail in the sum of $1,000.

The Christmas Tree.

The Christmas Tree, under the auspices of the Methodist and Presbyterian Sabbath Schools, in conjunction, will be exhibited at the Public School Room on Main street, on Wednesday evening, 24th inst. at 6 o'clock.

Personal.

Rev. W. E. Ballard left on Saturday to attend the general Conference of the Methodist church, which assembled at Meridian on Yesterday.

We were pleased to meet, in fine health, Mr. Robert T. Jennings of the crescent City, who is visiting his old home.

We have had the pleasure of meeting in the city quite a number of Sartatia friends who came up on the great City of Yazoo. Mess G. W. Daniel, John Pugh, Sam. H. Childress and S. L. Braden were of the party.

Mr. R. D. Jordan, of the vicinity of Benton, is in the city, and may be found at the Mammoth Cash Store of J. Wolderstein.

Messrs. J. H. Holt and J. R. Reagan have moved into one of the elegant new law offices recently erected on Jefferson street, while another is occupied by Messrs. John Sharpe Williams and Roscoe Barnett. Success to you, gentlemen. On the self same spot have been built up enviable reputations. We beg leave to express the hope that the associations clustering around it may be perpetuated in the realization of your brightest dreams.

Strayed or Stolen.

A small BAY MARE, PONEY in search of relaxation from the labors of a busy season—editorial and otherwise, has gone to spend the holidays in Brookhaven among relatives and old friends. A pleasant trip and a safe return.

Go and see the pretty doll offered by Mr. W. M. Smith, as a prize to the Miss under fourteen, who can summon to her support the greatest number of admirers. "It is a thing of beauty" and only lacks the breath of life to make it what we call "a joy forever." If you have a fair favorite among the buds now about to burst into the lovely flower, and who that admires beauty has not? drop a vote into the ballot-box in support of your choice. You may thus assist in affording an agreeable surprise and a triumph to be long remembered, to some one who little dreams what is in store for her.

Before purchasing Christmas presents for your friends, reflect that nothing is more highly appreciated or appropriate than your picture. It serves to recall your image, when you are absent and keep ever fresh and green your memory, in the hearts of your friends. Bushman can furnish you with pictures so life-like that they speak although their lips are silent. He is prepared to take any kind of picture that you want, in the most approved artistic, and scientific manner. Try him before the holidays are over.
